Abstract

The eleventh century A.D., the fifth century AH / the eleventh century A.D. A great change occurred, as new young men emerged who dominated the Abbasid caliphate from the year 447 until 590 AH. They began by force. It began with their defeat in its sanctuary as a response in the year 471 AH / 1079 AD, followed by the opening of the way for the Seljuks at the expense of the meteorologists, all of this prompted expansion, to contact with the European West, and also witnessed great transformations and papal control over the European position, which strongly supported the crusader project that was carried out in the first place. And it came in the basis, and the amendment was made to their cities, and their cities were restored, and its name was about liberating the Holy Lands and others from the hands of Muslims.

Watching the plans of the large projects that the Islamic region witnessed and its great witness that this Islamic region witnessed on the graph to see it and the preoccupation of their armies with these conspiracies made it easier for the Byzantines and the Crusaders to implement their expansion project of the lands and the Falcon and their rulers and the establishment of the Islamic Siliquito cities, these are the tourism projects that began in watching trips to most Most. Beginning with the besieging of the Crusaders and the Muslims, starting with the besieging of the Crusaders, starting in the year 490 AH / 1097 AD, the beginning of the military campaign that took place at the beginning of the Third Crusade.
